

Introduction

VoIPcloud is dedicated to providing excellent customer service and growing strong customer relationships. We have a complaints policy to ensure all complaints are handled as efficiently and effectively as possible.

As a customer of VoIPcloud, you are entitled to make a complaint to us. The following outlines our policy and procedures for the handling of verbal and written complaints.

Summary

We want to resolve your complaints as soon as possible. Please call our customer service department and we'll do our best to fix any problems you may be having with our service, as soon as possible.

Our responsibilities

- To provide an efficient, fair and structured mechanism for handling complaints.
- To provide our customers with access to the complaints handling process, including those customers with disabilities and special needs.
- To keep customers informed as to the progress of their complaints and the expected timeframe for resolution.
- Quarterly review of our complaints so that we can improve our standard of customer service.

Handling Your Complaint

- If your complaint is urgent, such as where you have been accepted by us as undergoing financial hardship, where your service is about to be disconnected, or where you are receiving Priority Assistance (for example, for medical reasons) we will prioritise your complaint and attempt to resolve it within 5 business days. If we cannot, we will explain why and the reasons for taking longer.
- We will keep you informed of the progress of your complaint, proposed actions and the expected timeframe for resolution.
- We aim to resolve complaints promptly and we will generally resolve a matter within 10 business days.
- Complex complaints may take longer than 10 business days to resolve. In these cases, we will regularly update you on the progress and likely timeframe for resolution, at the same time you will also be provided with internal escalation contact information and the Federal Communications Commission contact details.
- We will advise you of the outcome of your complaint. Where you have requested us to do so, we will advise you in writing.
- We may impose a charge for handling your complaint in special circumstances. For example, we may charge you a fee when your complaint requires us to retrieve archived records that are more than 24 months old.
- Making a complaint should normally be free. If we think your complaint requires a charge, we will not impose one without discussion with you. If your complaint is upheld in your favour, and we have charged you complaint handling fees, we will refund you the full amount of the fees charged

Step one

If you have a complaint regarding any aspect of your account or dealings with the company, we urge you to telephone our customer service department in the first instance. Our objective is to resolve the vast majority of enquiries or complaints during your first contact with VoIPcloud.

You will be charged at a local rate. If you prefer to put your complaint in writing, we will respond to your letter and will confirm any details in writing if you request us to do so.

If you like, you can appoint an authorised representative to interact with us on your behalf. Please see our website for a procedure and form to appoint an authorised representative. When you discuss your complaint with us, we can assist you to clarify and formulate the complaint.

You can also make a complaint by using any of the other contact methods on our website, or please ask us if there is any other method you would like to use to send a complaint to us.

Step two

Complaints made to the company are overseen by our customer service management. After a complaint is made, if it is not immediately resolved, we may need to investigate it. This process may take 10 business days, or longer (in which case we will update you with a reason for the delay and the expected timeframe).

If you are not satisfied with the response tendered to you, you may ask Customer Service Management to escalate your complaint to senior management directly. If so, we will try to make a senior management representative available to address the complaint as soon as possible (depending on availability).

Step three

When your complaint is resolved, we will confirm this with you within 10 business days.

If your complaint is not resolved to your satisfaction by us, and depending on the nature of your complaint, you may refer your complaint to the Federal Communications Commission.

Federal Communications Commission

In the unlikely event that your complaint has not been resolved by VoIPcloud to your satisfaction within 8 weeks, or if during the process of investigating your complaint, you believe the situation has reached a deadlock, you may refer your complaint to the Federal Communications Commission for independent consideration.

The Federal Communications Commission will make an independent decision based entirely on the merits of the complaint and at no cost to the customer. Customers may contact the Federal Communications Commission directly via their website:

<https://consumercomplaints.fcc.gov/hc/en-us>.

When should I go to the Federal Communications Commission?

If you have a complaint about your phone service, the first step you should take is to contact VoIPcloud and try to resolve the issue directly. Usually, the problem can be resolved at this stage. However, if you are unhappy with the resolution of the problem, the complaint has been ongoing for longer than 8 weeks, or you have received a deadlock letter from VoIPcloud explaining we can do no more to help, you can make a complaint to the Federal Communications Commission.

How much does it cost?

The Federal Communications Commission Service is free of charge. There is no charge to have a complaint investigated by the

How do I contact the Federal Communications Commission?

Directly via their website: <https://www.fcc.gov/about/contact>.

The best way to contact Federal Communications Commission is by calling: 1-888-225-5322 (phone)

You can file a complaint using the web form: <https://consumercomplaints.fcc.gov/hc/en-us/articles/360001201223>

Federal Communications Commission are open for all non-emergency calls Monday to Friday 8 am until 5 pm, ET.

By post:

Federal Communications Commission

45 L Street NE

Washington, DC 20554